They wholesale specific commercial lines and personal lines products to a nationwide panel of retail intermediaries and have a separate Terms of Business Agreement for their activities.

Governing Law

Our terms of business shall be governed by and construed in all respects according to the laws of the Republic of Ireland.

TERMS OF BUSINESS

Our Services

Our principal business is to provide advice and arrange transactions on behalf of clients in relation to general insurance products. A full list of product providers including ultimate insurers with which we deal is available on request.

Arachas uses a range of product providers some of whom in turn may charge a fee for their services. A full list of our product providers is available on request. For ease of reference, for this document, the term, 'product provider', may refer to insurance undertakings, wholesale brokers, managing general agencies and product producers. Arachas transacts business only through product providers who are regulated by the Central Bank of Ireland or another equivalent regulator. Arachas cannot and does not guarantee the solvency of any product provider.

Commercial Insurance

Key products and services include but are not restricted to; business insurance, agricultural, private clients, manufacturing, corporate risks, leisure, hospitality and entertainment risks, fleet insurance, property risks, goods in transit, educational risks, childcare, charitable risks, insolvency risks, professional risks, management liability, cyber risks, tradesmen and contractors' insurance.

Personal Insurance

Key products and services include but are not restricted to private car insurance, commercial van insurance, home insurances, landlord insurance, travel insurance, gadget insurance.

For some products, Arachas can provide advice, based on a fair analysis basis on all classes of insurance policies based on a sufficiently large number of contracts and product providers available on the market to enable us to make a recommendation.

The number of providers that constitutes 'sufficiently large' will vary depending on the number of providers operating in the market for a product or service and their relative importance in and share of that market. To ensure that the number of contracts and providers is sufficiently large to constitute a fair analysis of the market, we will consider the following criteria:

- the needs of the customer,
- the size of the customer order,
- the number of providers in the market that deal with brokers,
- the market share of each of those providers,
- the number of relevant products available from each provider,
- the availability of information about the products,
- the quality of the product and service provided by the provider,
- cost, and other relevant considerations.

TERMS OF BUSINESS

Arachas also offers specific affiliate products and schemes for personal lines and commercial lines products across motor, household and specific business insurances with leading providers (details available on request) which have the added benefit of often bespoke market-leading policy wordings at keen rates. For such policies, Arachas operates on a limited analysis of the market, details of the limited market product providers are available on request for these cases. Where Arachas assesses consumers as being eligible for these packages, or provide distribution services via another channel, we don't research the market on a case-by-case basis, but rather place the business with the preferred provider. We continually review, monitor and evolve such products with product providers, from a cover and costing perspective to ensure that our offering remains competitive and to enhance our customer experience.

We also offer risk management advice and a claims handling service.

Our Digital Platform

Arachas offers a small range of products on its digital platform which is designed to offer a customer focused service to avail of a suite of products on a quote to bind digital system. Customers will be able to access documentation processed on the platform by logging into a digital wallet. For these online products, Arachas has arranged bespoke products with one or a small panel of product providers per product, rather than on a fair analysis of the market. Full details are displayed on the insurance documentation. Whilst the system is designed to allow customers to progress their insurance quote and bind cover digitally, our teams are available to support the customer journey.

If for whatever reason the customer's requirements do not match the underwriting rules of the digital platform, Arachas teams will then offer the customer the opportunity of a quotation via our rating systems on a fair analysis of the market.

Conduct

Arachas endeavours in all transactions to act honestly and fairly in the best interests of our clients and the integrity of the market while complying with all regulatory requirements applicable to the conduct of our business activities. We will assist you with any queries you may have in relation to your policies or in the event of a claim during the life of the policies and we will explain to you the various restrictions, conditions and exclusions attached to your policy. If you require additional assistance because of a vulnerability, please let us know. We are here to help. However, it is your responsibility to read the policy documents and supporting schedules, literature and brochures to ensure that you understand the nature of the policy cover and the restrictions which may apply.

Please note that if you receive a quotation for a new business insurance product or for a change to an existing insurance, cover should not be assumed to be in place until it is confirmed by Arachas.

Payment of amounts owing

Under current legislation, very strict rules apply to the payment of premiums to product providers. It is agreed that all premium and charges are paid by you on or before the due date as per the documentation issued to you. It is your responsibility to ensure that your payment has reached us. Arachas will not be able to pay premiums to product providers which have not been received from clients, with the result that cancellation instructions may be given to product providers, in the absence of payment of the premium in full.

Insurers may withdraw benefits, cover, or impose penalties in the event of default of any payments due for products arranged for your benefit. We reserve the right to take legal action for any monies due to us. Arachas has a policy of charging €10 for a returned cheque.

Premium Rebates: Premium rebates are forwarded to consumers within 5 working days of the official notification being received from the product supplier. Our policy is to issue return premium by way of electronic bank transfer and not to issue cheques, except in exceptional circumstances.

Handling Clients money

Arachas accepts payment in cash, cheque, by credit or debit card and by electronic fund transfer. Monies received from clients are retained in our Client Premium Account, which is a bank account solely for client's monies. Arachas issues a receipt for all payments received into our client premium account. A receipt is issued with your protection in mind and should be stored safely.

Default on payments by clients

Under the Consumer Insurance Contracts Act 2019 you have a duty to pay your premium within a reasonable time, or in accordance with the terms of the contract of insurance.

Our firm will exercise its legal rights to receive payments due to it from clients (fees and insurance premiums) for services provided. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing, the firm will seek reimbursement for all payments made to product providers on behalf of clients where the firm has acted in good faith in renewing a policy of insurance for the client.

Product providers may withdraw benefits or cover in the event of default on payments due under policies of insurance or other

Cancellations and mid-term alterations

You may opt to amend or cancel your policy during the period of cover. A consumer (as defined by SI No 853 of European Communities (Distance Marketing of Consumer Financial Services) Regulations, 2004 has the right to withdraw from an insurance policy within 14 days of the start date of the policy without penalty and without giving any notice (except in the case of travel policies whose operative period is for one month or less). This is called, 'the cooling off period'. The right of withdrawal must be exercised by notice in writing to Arachas, quoting your policy number.

If the cover relates to motor insurance, the policy cannot be cancelled, or monies refunded until the relevant Certificate of insurance and windscreen disc have been received by the product provider. No refund will apply if a claim has occurred on the policy. Should this right be exercised the insurance company may charge for the period you are on cover. Please note that if you cancel a policy which was set up on a minimum and deposit basis, no refund will be allowed following cancellation. Should you initiate the cancellation of your policy prior to the expiration date and within the first year of insurance with your insurer, the insurer is entitled to retain a greater percentage of unearned premium (UEP) than would otherwise apply with pro rata cancellation.

Please note that if you opt to cancel an insurance policy covering a property which is subject to a mortgage, you may be in breach of the mortgage terms in cancelling cover.

Under the Consumer Insurance Contracts Act you may also cancel a contract of insurance by giving notice in writing within 14 days after you have been informed that the contract is concluded. The only cost to you will be the cost of the premium for the period of cover.

Disclosure of Information

You must take reasonable care in answering all of the questions asked on a proposal form or in checking statements declared on a statement of fact. Please contact us if you do not understand any question or the nature of information required.

If you make a false or misleading claim in any material respect (and know it to be false or misleading or consciously disregards whether it is) the insurer is entitled to refuse to pay and to terminate the contract. Any clause in a contract of insurance that refers to a material change will be interpreted as being a change that takes the risk outside what was in the reasonable contemplation of the contracting parties when the contract was concluded.

You should notify us as soon as practicably possible about any changes in the information provided which happens before or during any period of insurance. Any such change may affect your policy and may result in revised terms and/or additional premium being applied to your policy.

A product provider may refuse a claim made by a consumer under a contract of insurance where there is a change in the subject matter of the contract and the circumstances have so changed that it has effectively changed the risk to one which the insurer has not agreed to cover.

Electronic Mail

communications sent to you. You will also be responsible for checking that messages received are complete. Electronic mail transmission from Arachas is confidential and intended only for the person to whom it is addressed. Its contents may be protected by legal and/or professional privilege. Should an email be received by you in error please contact us at insure@arachas.ie. Cover instructions received by Arachas by electronic mail have no validity until confirmed by Arachas. Any unauthorised form of reproduction of email communication is strictly prohibited. The firm does not guarantee the security of any information electronically transmitted and is not liable if the information contained in this communication is not a proper and complete record of the message as transmitted by the sender or for any delay in its receipt. The firm accepts no responsibility for any loss or damage resulting directly or indirectly from the use of electronic mail or for the contents within. In the event of a dispute neither of us will challenge the legal evidential standing of an electronic document and Arachas systems shall be deemed the definitive record of electronic communications and documentation.

We would remind our clients that due to the popularity of email as an attack vector, it is critical that enterprises and individuals take measures to secure their email accounts against common attacks as well as attempts at un-authorised access to accounts or communications. Malware sent via email messages can be quite destructive. Phishing emails often contain malware in attachments designed to look like legitimate documents or include hyperlinks that lead to websites that serve malware. Phishing emails can also be used to trick recipients into sharing sensitive information, often by posing as a legitimate business or trusted contacts. Phishing emails aimed at stealing information typically will ask recipients to confirm their login information, passwords, social security number, bank account numbers, and even credit card information. Some even link to counterfeit websites that look exactly like that of a reputable vendor or business partner to trick victims into entering account or financial information. Arachas will never seek such information from our clients. Our website address is www.arachas.ie.
